

New Rule

Occupation of the City Administration

*Russia

We will win!

Re-fer-en-dum!

Russ-ia,
Russ-ia!

This used to be the Soviet Union.
We speak Russian.

Your time is up!
Go and sell cigarettes at the market,
as we have done for the past years!

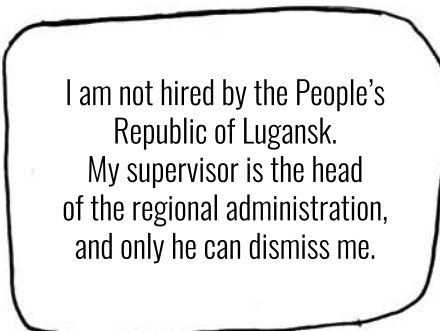

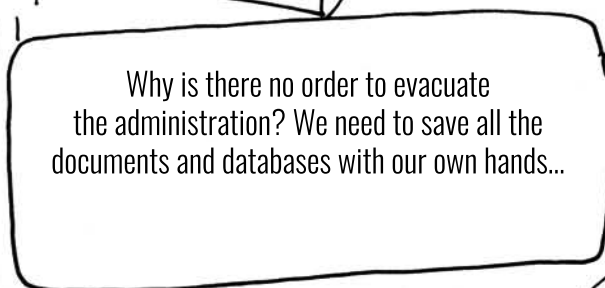

*Rus

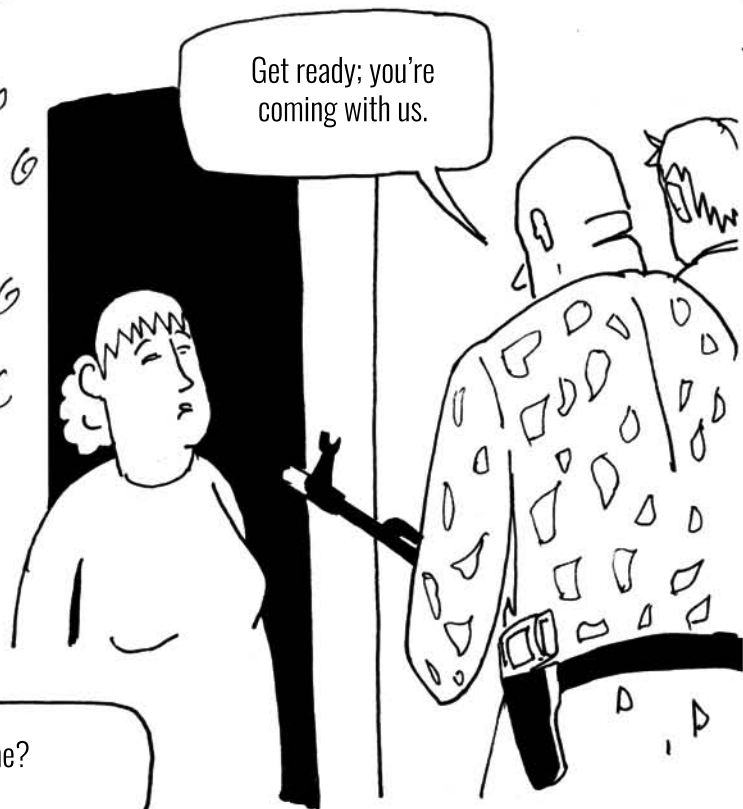

What do you want?
I also grew up in the Soviet Union;
I was a member of the Komsomol and the Communist Party. But that is the past.
Do you think these bandits who have occupied the administration will reintroduce communism? And who prevents you from speaking Russian?

In the Regional Administration Building yard, the separatists negotiated with the police for a couple of hours. The policemen refused to hand over their weapons, so the separatists decided to take the weapons to a special room at their base, and guard the room with both separatists and representatives of the Ukrainian government.

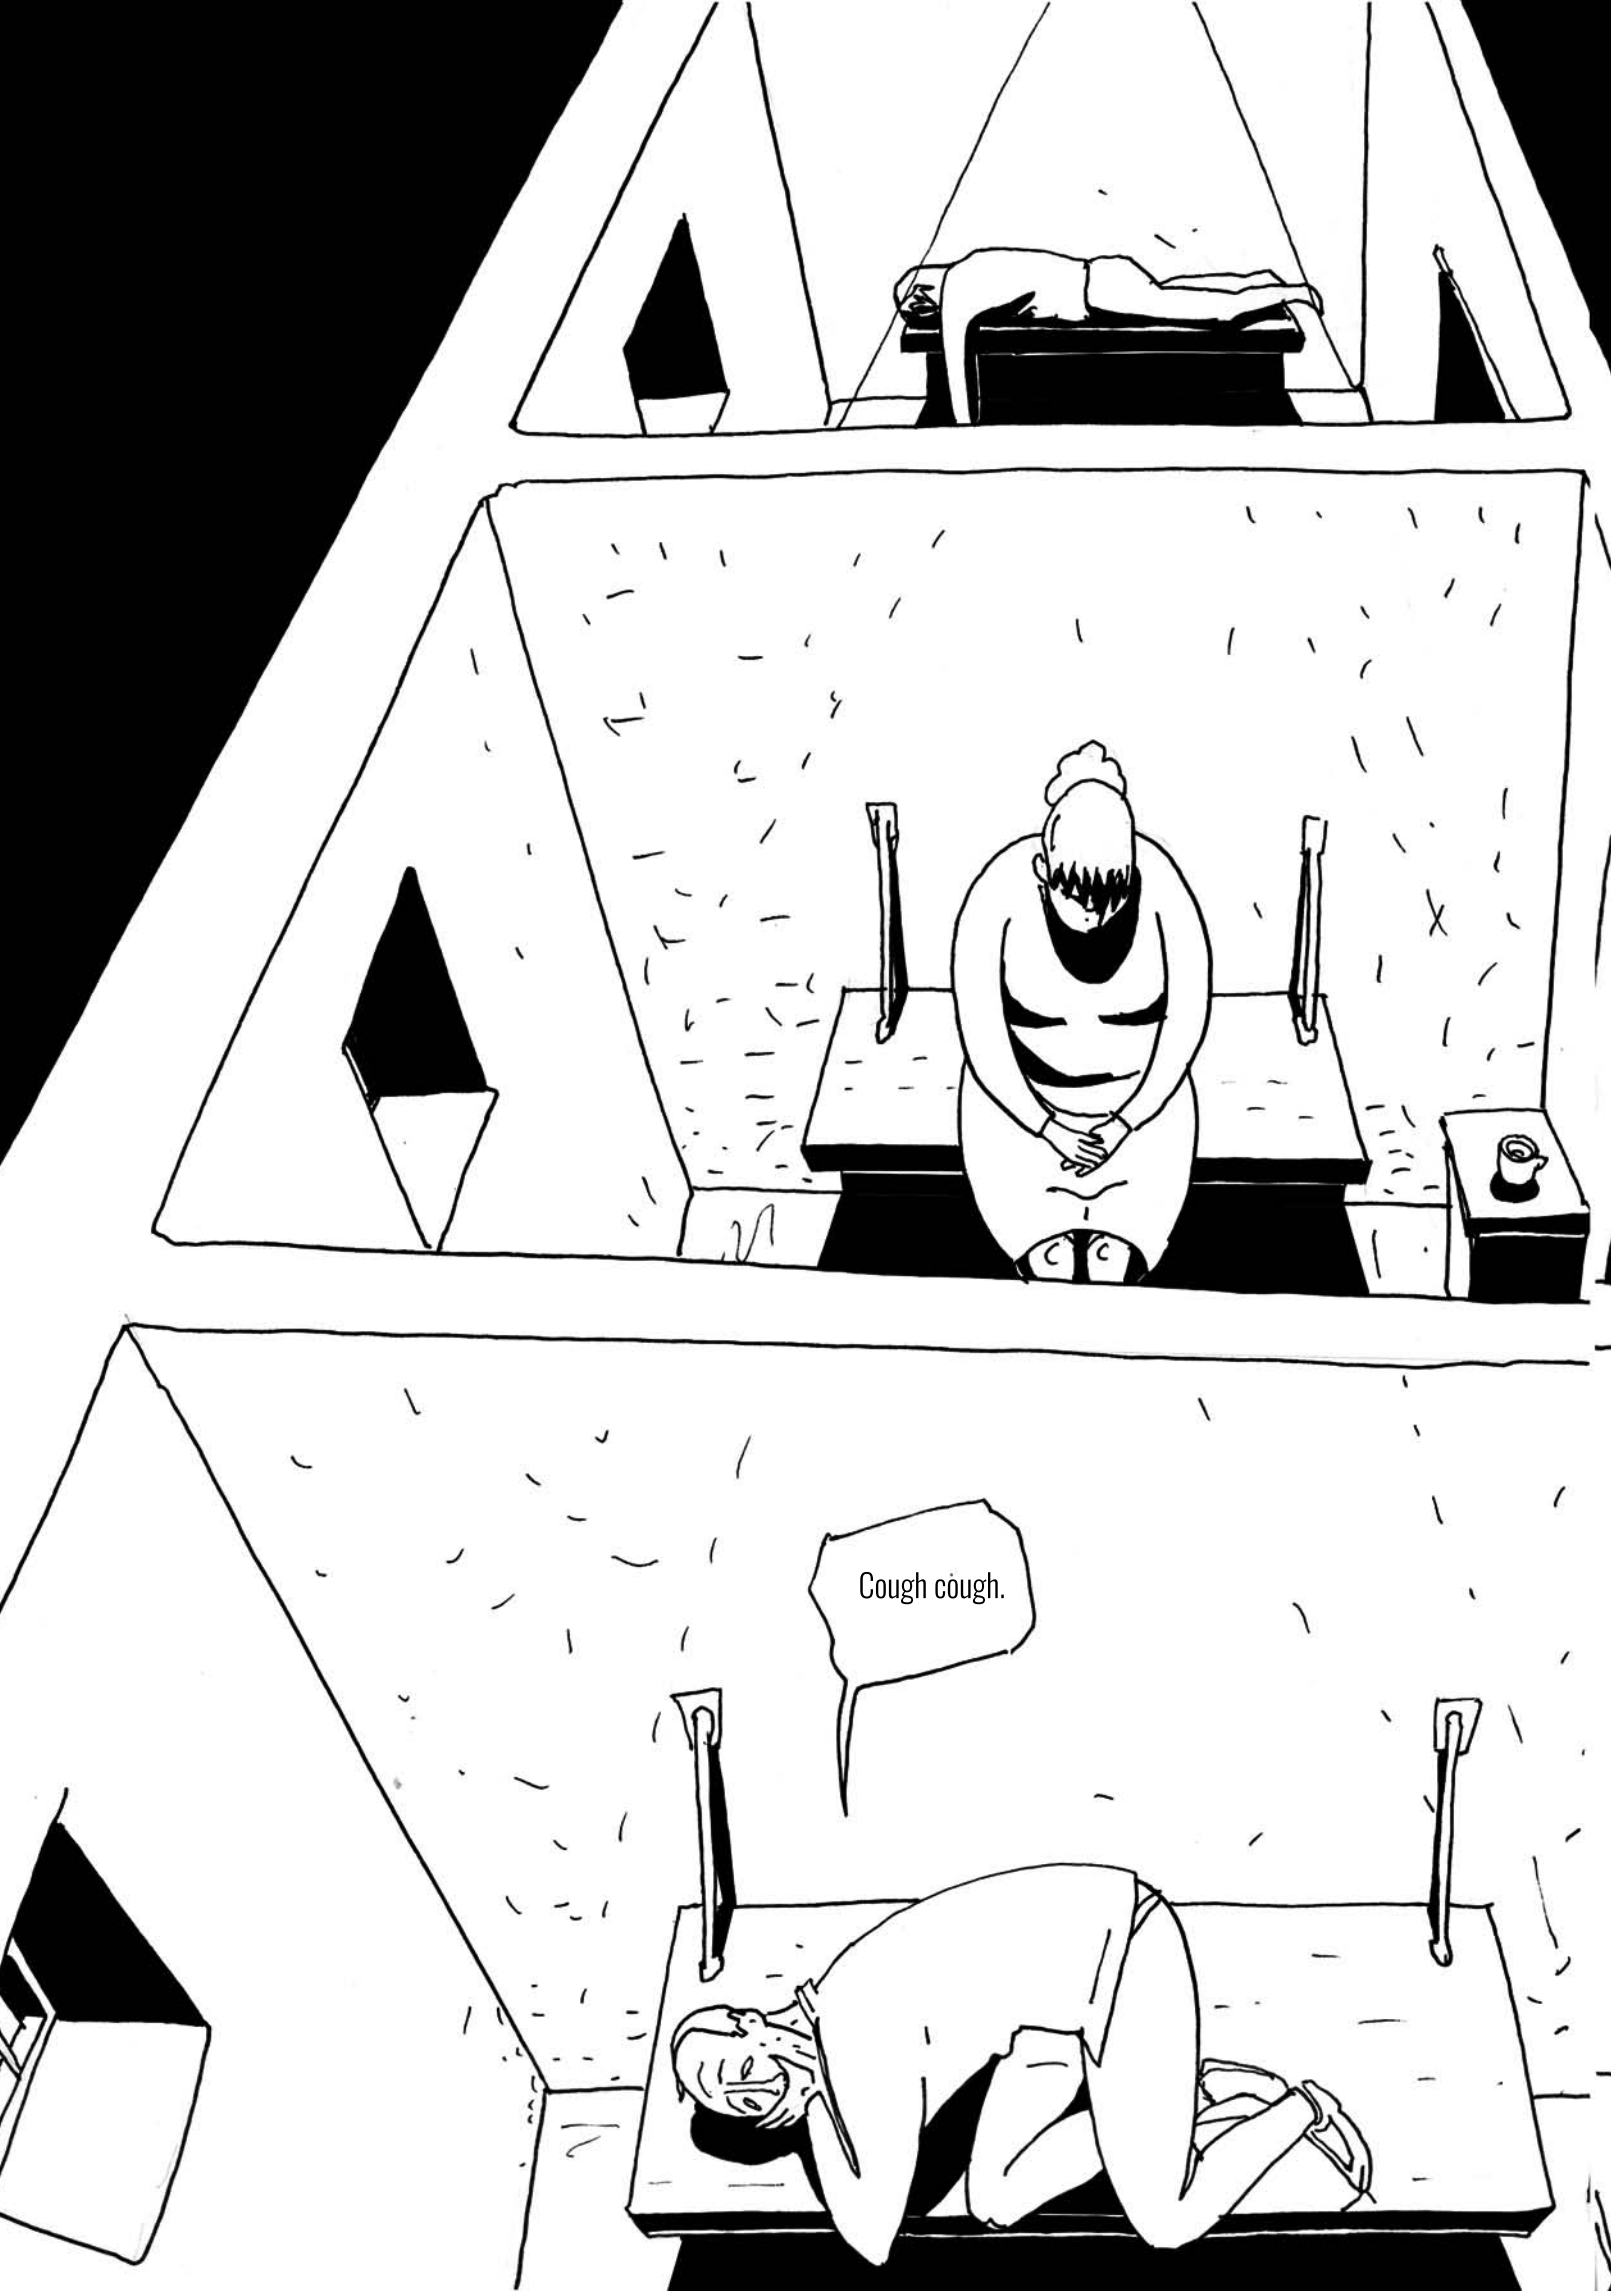

In the end, the separatists took power. The political winds changed in the local administration, Valentina's workplace.

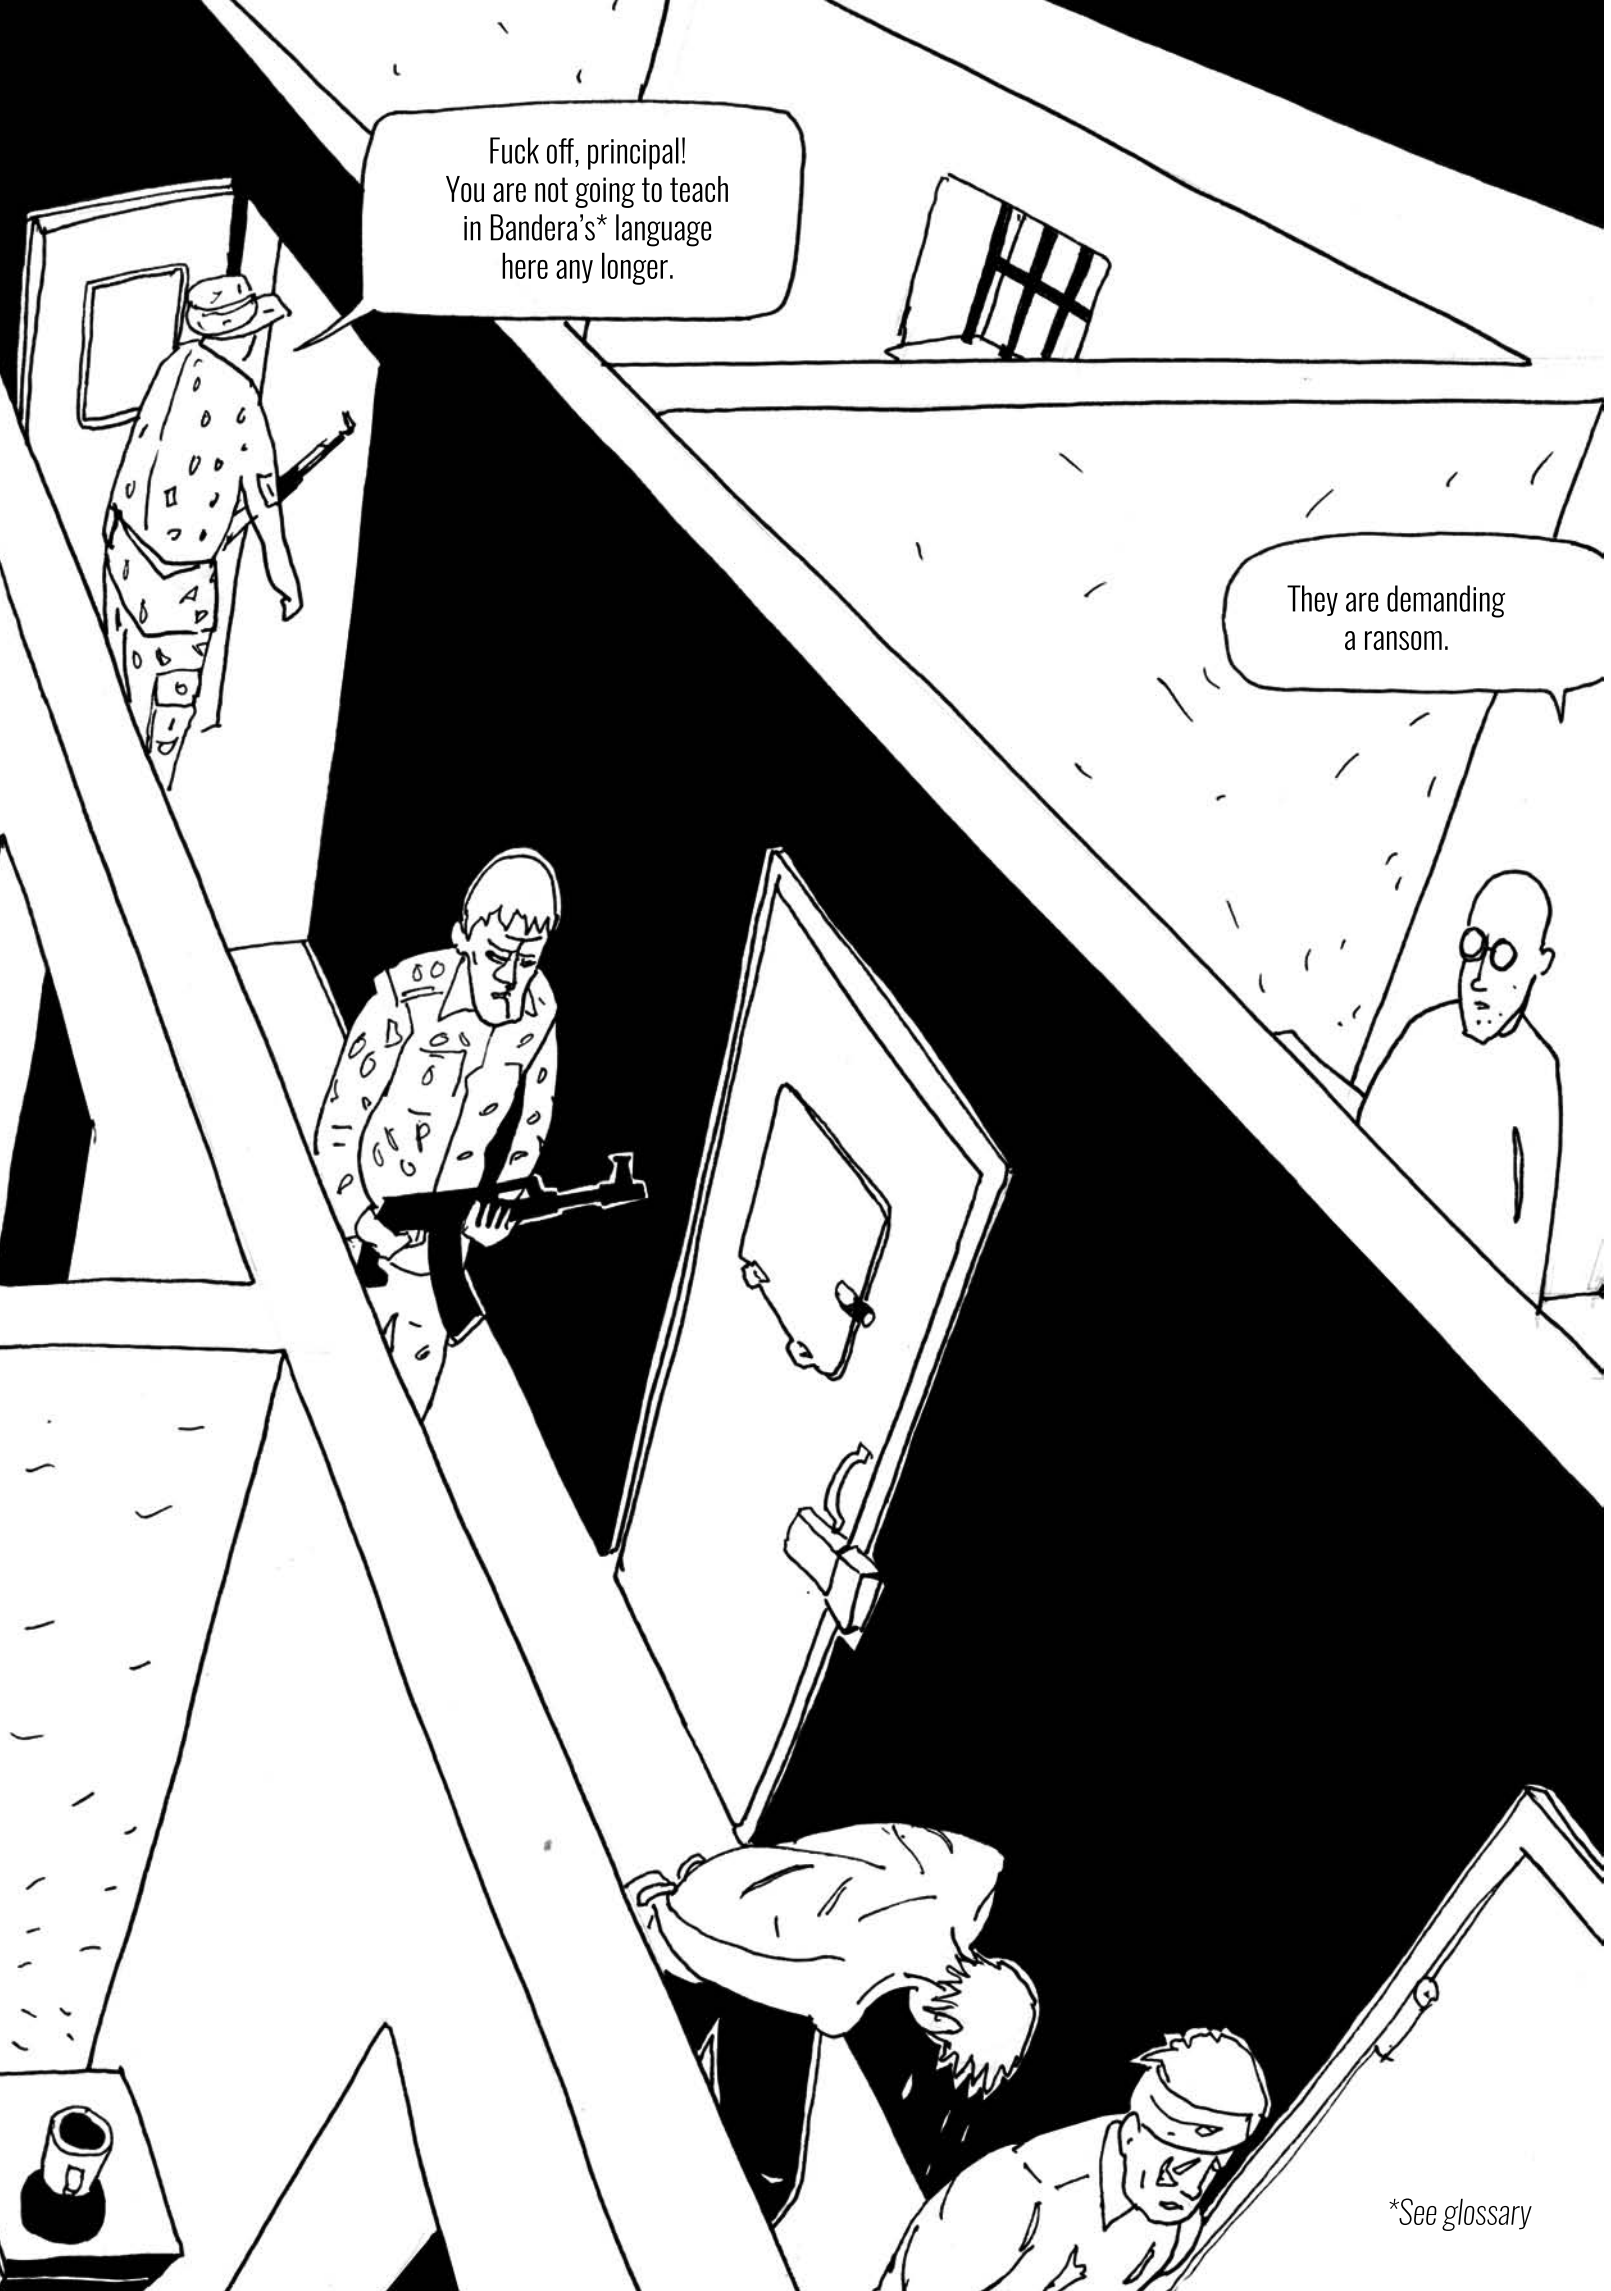

Fuck off, principal!
You are not going to teach in Bandera's* language
here any longer.

They are demanding a ransom.

Oh my god, this junkie
wants to interrogate me?

We arrested you on behalf of the the People's Republic of Lugansk.

Can you make that clearer?
Why exactly did you arrest me?
Why am I sitting in this basement?

And what republic?

Look, you seem to have plenty of useful contacts.
You could work in the ministry of the People's Republic of Lugansk.

What choice do you have?
You know that we can shoot you.

Sergey Ivanovich, the citizen refuses to cooperate.

Mama was arrested. Please help! People's Republic of Lugansk...*

They let me go, but they said that I'm «under arrest» anyway. I didn't get my documents back.

Don't worry, Ma. Your international passport is at home. They couldn't find it.

We have five minutes to get ready. Some people offered to take us in their car. I don't know them but they're leaving from Lugansk in a couple of minutes.

I have already been working here for some weeks and we're currently administering a lot of rebuilding projects in Donbas.
